Steinberg Virtual Bassist 1.0.0.504 H2O

i was searching for virtual bassist updates and came across this message. i downloaded v 1.0.504 and it still doesn't work. i do not want to pirate any of steinberg's software. i did not make this request to steal any software. i just want to know why virtual bassist does not function. as with broomstick bass, virtual bassist offers a selection of musical styles (32 are provided in the initial release). each style has a suitable preset bass sound associated with it and offers a selection of phrases or riffs. vb refers to these phrases as 'parts' and as many as 18 are provided for each style. these respond to either a root note input or a chord and any melodic/riff-based parts are automatically adjusted to fit the chosen chord. the other major features include groove match (which, for example, allows the bass groove to be fine-tuned to match a drum groove) and the excellent 'amp & fx' section, which, as its name suggests, is modelled, both in terms of its sound and its appearance, on a classic array of bass hardware. what's more, this section is also supplied as a separate vst plug-in, so it can be used to process other audio signals if required. having used them both side by side within cubase sx, the choice between virtual bassist and broomstick bass is a difficult one. in my own view, for basic automated bass-line construction which is, after all, the key selling point of both there is little to choose between the two products. however, the rest of the feature sets are quite distinctive, with each product having its own particular strengths. i hope that my two reviews will give all you potential purchasers enough of a flavour of these differences that you can determine which product might best suit your own particular needs.

hi, i am new to vsts and i am currently using virtual bassist. i have noticed that there is no midi out feature in vb. this has become an issue for me because i am trying to create a new song with a drummer and i am using midi out to send the drums to my sampler. is there a way to get this functionality in vb? i am a steinberg vst plug-in user and am addicted to using it, but not a steinberg plug-in user. it's a really great plug-in and the ability to be able to edit notes and shapes is great. one question i have about it is that there is no midi out from the plug-in. i dont think steinberg will ever develop their own hardware. my guess is that they will never let anybody else design hardware for them. steinberg is always about innovation and being the leader. i dont think that they will ever go for that because their always doing great. and with their patent's they will always be #1. i agree, i think that steinberg will never develop their own hardware. it is not their way. they will always do what they do best, which is make good software. the reason why you don't find anything about it, is because, unless you speak german, you are not going to be able to read anything that steinberg puts out. now if they had a site, you could probably read some of the stuff. but they don't have a site. they don't want to have a site. i know that, because they asked me if i wanted to have a site, and i said,

'no'. i wanted to be independent, and that's why i don't have a site. i know you are talking about steinberg not having a site, but i don't think it is a bad thing. i think that they should keep it this way. i think that they want to stay focused on the vst's and not have any distractions. when you have something new, and are going to be developing for a long time, you need to make sure that you stay focused on the project. if steinberg had a site, then they would get distracted.
